

托福口语 33 招 黄金句式

1. She can avoid wasting time on irrelevant things
2. He has the potential risk of offending his roommate by taking things without asking.
3. She has trouble / a hard time preparing for her final exam.
4. The limitations prevent you from elaborating fully on your ideas.
5. The drafty window also contributes to the low temperature in the classroom.
6. Renting an apartment will provide him with a better study condition and better concentration
7. I don't want to risk the whole project going down the drain.
8. Without the supervision of the professor, she may delay turning in the paper.
9. If her friend doesn't show up in 5 minutes, they'll miss out on the beginning of the film.
10. People tend to minimize the cognitive dissonance by reinterpreting the situation.
11. Communication can help deepen / expand the understanding between children and parents.
12. She could end up/wind up getting a very low grade.
13. He ends up leaving the professor with a very bad impression.
14. He is supposed to drive a bunch of kids to the zoo tomorrow, but the van is not available due to the emergency.
15. Irrational commitment is the tendency to continue with a project when it makes better sense to give up.
16. His actions contradict / disagree with his words, because he is conflicted in this conflicting situation.
17. In order to make more computers available to the students, the university's decided to add evening classes .
18. As a student with heavy workload, I work to an extremely tight / heavy schedule.

19. She has a scheduling problem / time conflict between her history class and the archeology field trip.
20. The money / time / saved could be spent enjoying private interests.
21. She can explain the situation to the leader, because it is understandable.
22. The students' budget is limited/tight, so the new arrangement would help them save money in the long run/term.
23. What they need is more space for group discussions, not a low quality gym.
24. The new sculpture cost so much that it led the school to increase the campus housing price.
25. The students preparing for the final exams will be highly distracted from study by the music playing/played in the background.
26. Facing fierce competition in the job market, they have to study diligently.
27. Fancy restaurants feature delicate ceilings and elaborate canopy.
28. Students would benefit from the third hour of the seminar when interesting ideas begin surfacing.
29. Online learning allows / enables everyone to get easy access to the study materials.
30. To gain more market share, the company must perfect the design of its products to make them appealing to the consumers.
31. The new program would attract more top students to enroll in the department.
32. The university encourages students to use public transportation instead of driving to campus.
33. A pest-resistant plant has been developed in response to virus infections.